"Spend no time feelin' inferior.
Standin' in front of my mirror,
Comb my hair in a thousand ways,
But I came out lookin' just the same.

... I finally believed that I
Didn't need anyone but me.
I sincerely thought I was so complete.
Look how wrong ya can be.

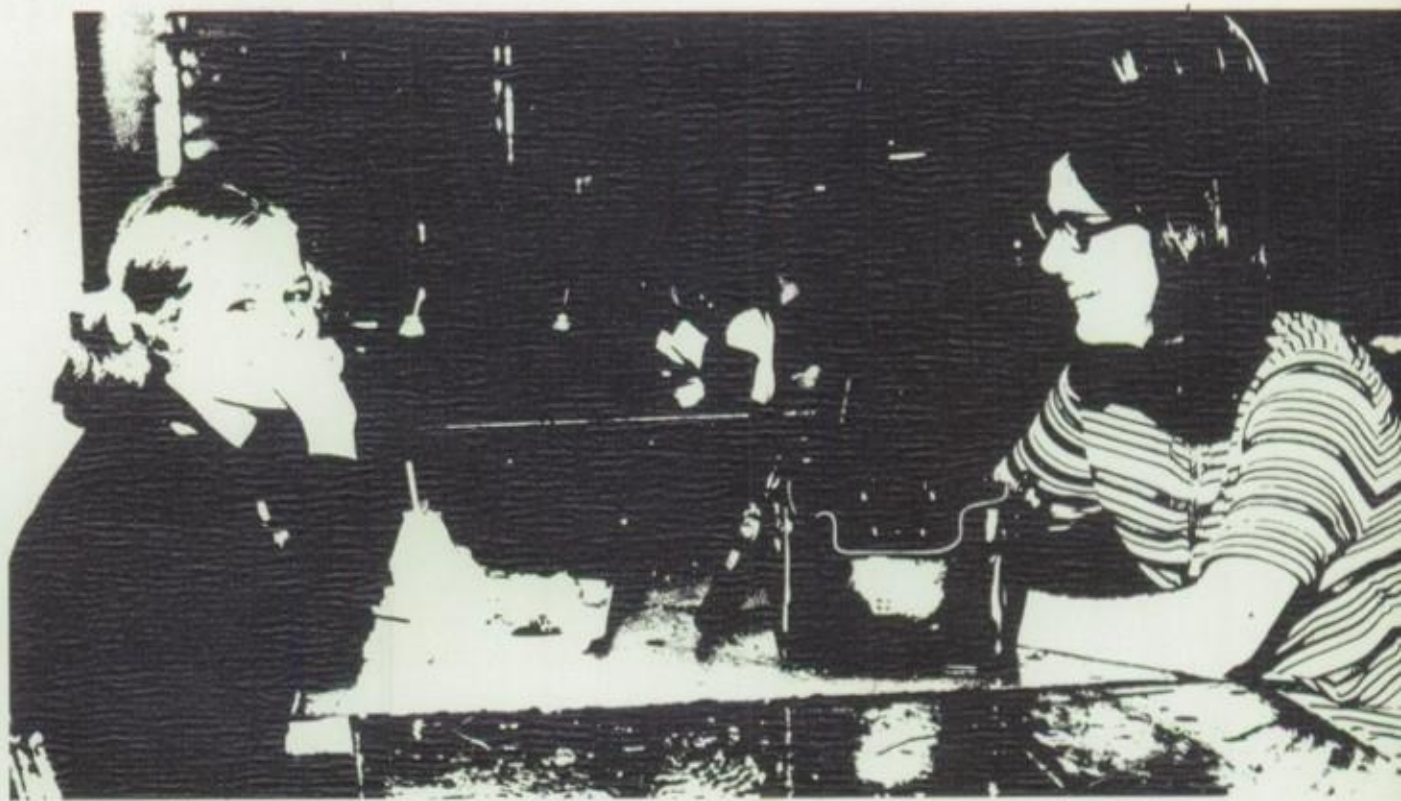

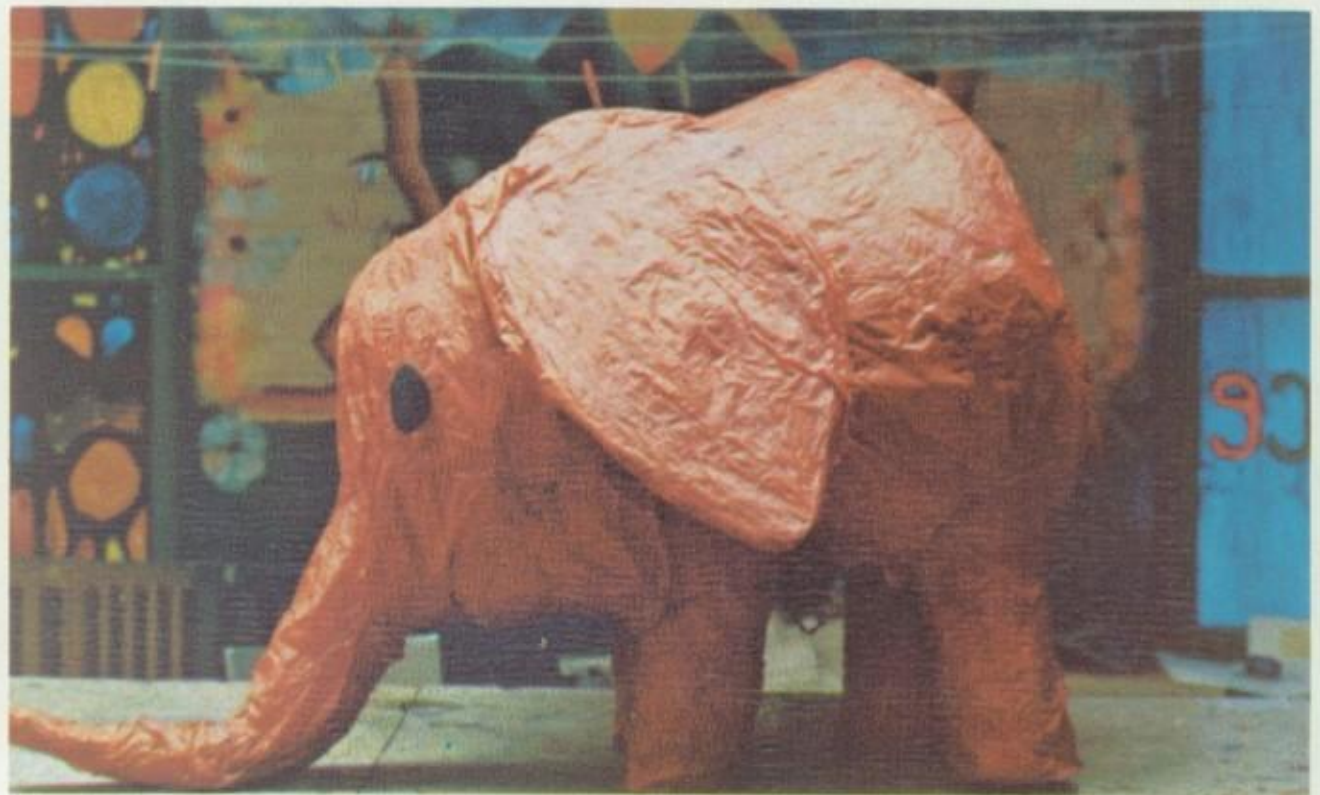

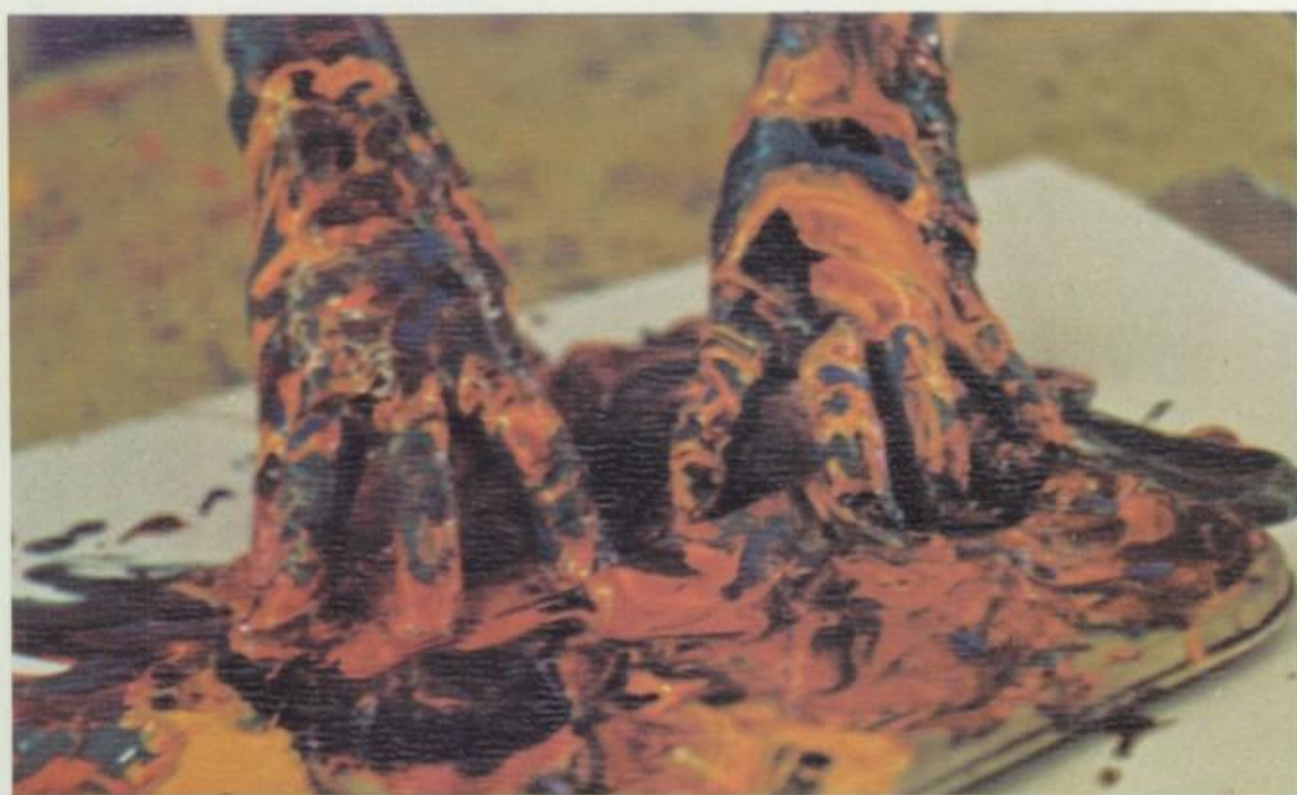

... And if there are some words I can tell to you,
To help ya on the way down a road.
I couldn't quote ya no Dickens, Shelley, or Keats
'Cause it's all been said before.
Make the best out of a bad joke
Laugh it off. Ha!
Ya didn't ask to call me anyway.
So remember, every picture tells a story, don't it?"

The cheerleaders have been very active this year. They started out with practices weekly, raising money and making plans for camp. The blue ribbons received at camp were proof of their hard work during the summer. New ideas were added to the pep rallies, such as "the pie in the eye," and the football players disguised as cheerleaders. Different tactics were used to psych the team up, like the Moe and Joe's train ride through town to the coach's house and the spirit dot. These and many more hilarious moments were enjoyed by all, but by especially the cheerleaders and the mascot.

This year's football team was less productive in some areas; yet in other aspects it met and even surpassed some expectations that were made for the men of the gridiron. At times the team showed less than a desire for victory and then at others they showed to the fans that they would be a team to be reckoned with in the future. The coaching staff was bolstered greatly this year by handing the head coaching duties to Dave Hansbarger. Coach Hansbarger is a fine organizer and is a man who demands perfection and respect. He also had much fine help this year with the additions of Gary Ludwig, Joe Gagel, and Frank Blatnik to the varsity staff. All were very fine coaches and add a bright prospect to Swanton athletics in the future. There were some fine individual efforts this season and hopes are high that the men will mold into a fine team next year. This year's recipient of the Most Valuable Player award was Garry Lumm, who is a senior and Bob Camp received the Coach's Award. Congratulations to these two and to the other graduating seniors and underclassmen who will return and make "73" the year of the Bulldogs.

Basketball

The basketball team, though nursing wounds of a dismal past, retains hopes of a bright future. Graduating only three seniors from the varsity squad, there are many experienced underclassmen to try to bring a long-awaited N. B. L. basketball trophy back to Swanton.

Wrestling

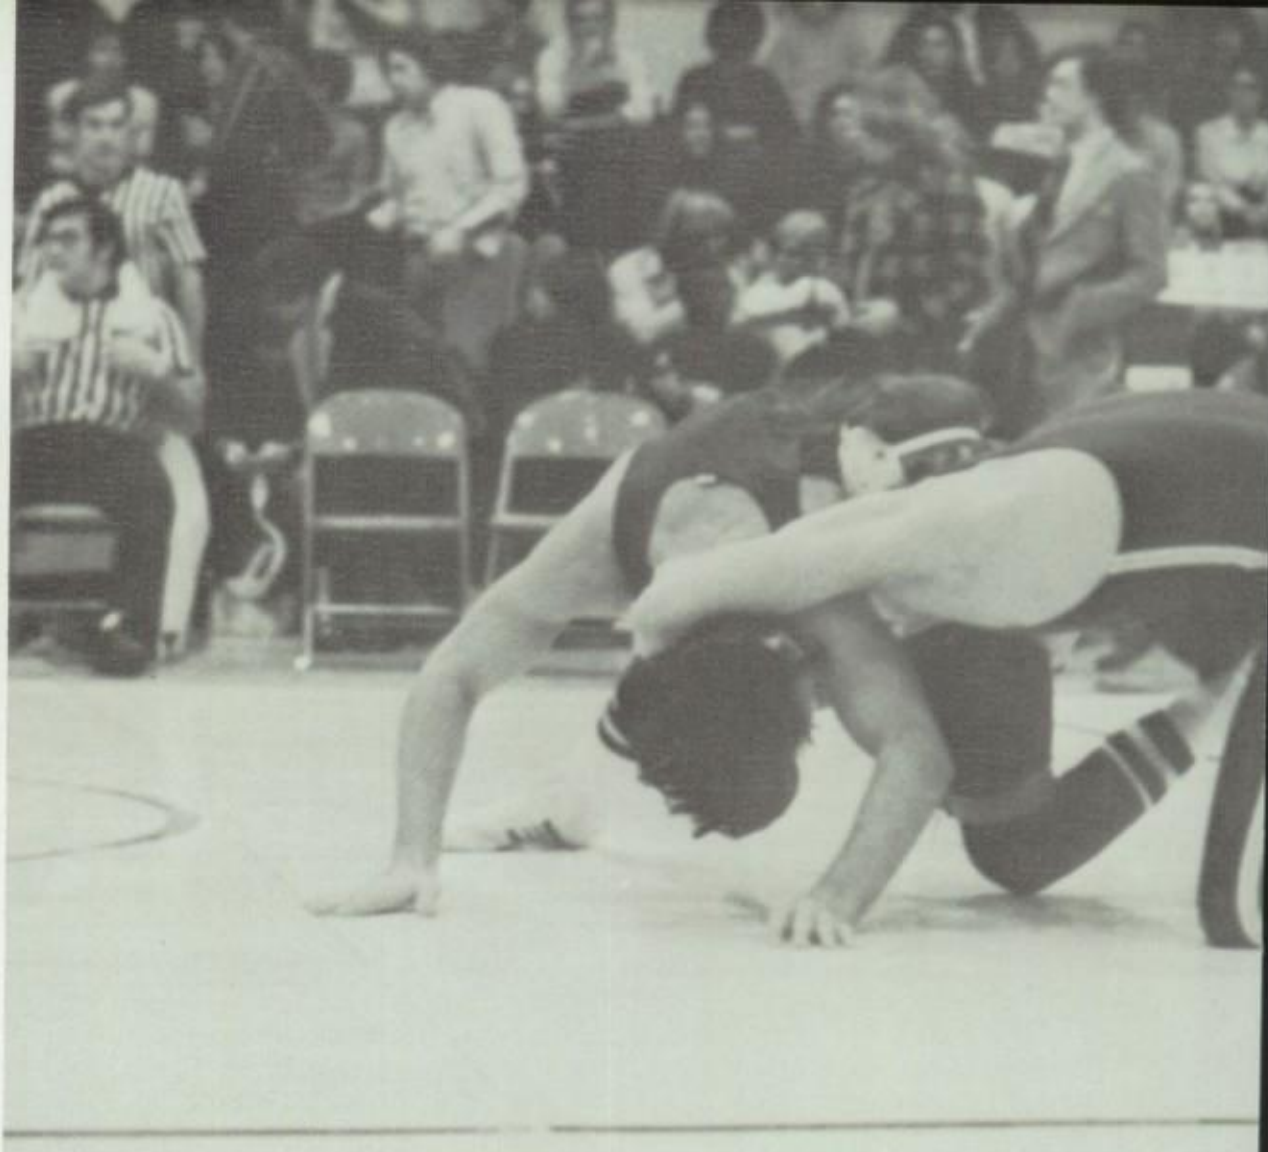

The outlook for our wrestlers seemed a bit gloomy after the loss of their fine coach, Ben Thomas, last year. But the gloom turned to an undefeated record and a league championship, something never before accomplished in Swanton's wrestling history. The main reason for their success was the assigning of Gary Ludwig as the new head coach. Coach Ludwig along with assistant, Coach Woods worked the men very hard in the pre-season, and their work paid off with their fine record. The team placed second in the Lakota and Canton invitational tournaments and also did a fine job in the sectional and district tournaments sending Bob Schmidt to Columbus for the state tournament. Congratulations to the grapplers; the school takes great pride in your efforts.

The baseball team this year fielded a fine team and played some very tough competition. The Bulldogs ran into some frustrations, including injuries to key players, poor playing conditions, and other complications. But, due to teamwork and fine leadership, the team rolled over these complications to produce a fine season. They made the best showing for a long time in tournament play, capturing the sectional crown. The Bulldogs will be losing many fine players after this season, including tri-captains Garry Lumm, Ken Strong, and Steve Williams. Also leaving will be Bob Camp, Lloyd Carroll, Rick Hartsell, Joe Robasser, and Dave Wilkins. But, many starters from this season will return to form a fine team for next year.

Track and Cross Country

The track team, while not attaining the best record ever, did have something not many SHS teams have had in a long time, spirit. This was due largely to Coach Dastigir and the winning attitude he has instilled in all his teams. The team finished the year with a 5-5 record and made a third place showing in league competition. Special mention should be given to Naaman Thomas, who advanced to state competition in the two mile run, and also shattered school and area records in that event. Many of the team's members will be returning next year to make Swanton a real threat to all comers.

Mr. Dastigir's long-distance men, the cross country team, made themselves known by attaining an 8-3 record, and being defeated but once in the N. B. L. This year's team was lead by the strong running of Naaman Thomas, Andy Bixler, and Aaron Jordan, plus the rest of the team members who all performed very well. opposite page - left - Gary Wagoner and Andy Bixler. top - Dan Thames. bottom - Jeff Bushong. this page - Gary Wagoner and Andy Bixler. bottom left - John Timpe.

back row - Coach Mrs. Hansbarger, Coach Mrs. Dastigir, Kathy Taylor, Billie Sue Ramer, Mary Gombash, Mary Smith, Debbie Wenner, Jackie Tipping, Mary Mossing, Karen Zeigler, Debbie Lubbers. 2nd row - Sondra Williams, Kathy Sadowski, Carol Sharples, Donna Williams, Kim McDowall, Barb Fleck, Carolyn Loch, Anne Gore, Jan Hilton, Theresa Spangler, Wendy Smith. front row - Coach Mrs. Kahle, Coach Mrs. Lumm, Sue Williams, Val Taftegan, Velda Kollarik, Julie Onweller, Tony Brown, Joetta Osley, Debbie Dunbar, Patty Hobson.

The track team has expanded this year to include the "weaker sex" in varsity competition. Although they did not compete against the boys, they played girls' teams from other high schools in the surrounding areas. The girls also sent entries to the Blade Relays at B.G.S.U., which included Kathy Sadowki in the 220, and Karen Zeigler and Wendy Smith in the 50 yd. dash. Watch out boys, the females are right on your winged heels!

ACTIVITIES

1972 Homecoming

Miss Bonnie Eisel - Even though the spirit of the seniors was darkened a bit by the bad showing in the spirit and float contests, everyone's spirit was brightened by knowing that representing the class of "73" as 1972 Homecoming Queen, was Bonnie Eisel. Bonnie is a fine FHA member, besides being an active and popular student.

Miss Connie Dietsch - Also adding a glittering touch to Homecoming "72" was the presence of Connie Dietsch as Student attendant. Connie is active in Student Council and GAA, as well as her duties as a student.

Shedding the garb of an SHS cheerleader, Linda Lambert reigned as this year's Sophomore class attendant. Even though being somewhat shy, Linda is rapidly making her presence and the presence of the class of "75" well known.

Miss Mickey Adams (lower left)

The Junior float was adorned by the cheerful smile of Mickey Adams, the representative for the class of "74." Mickey, being a cheerleader, is an outgoing person, which is an enhancement to the halls of SHS. She also enhances the "silent room" by being a member of library club.

Miss Gloria Kern (left)

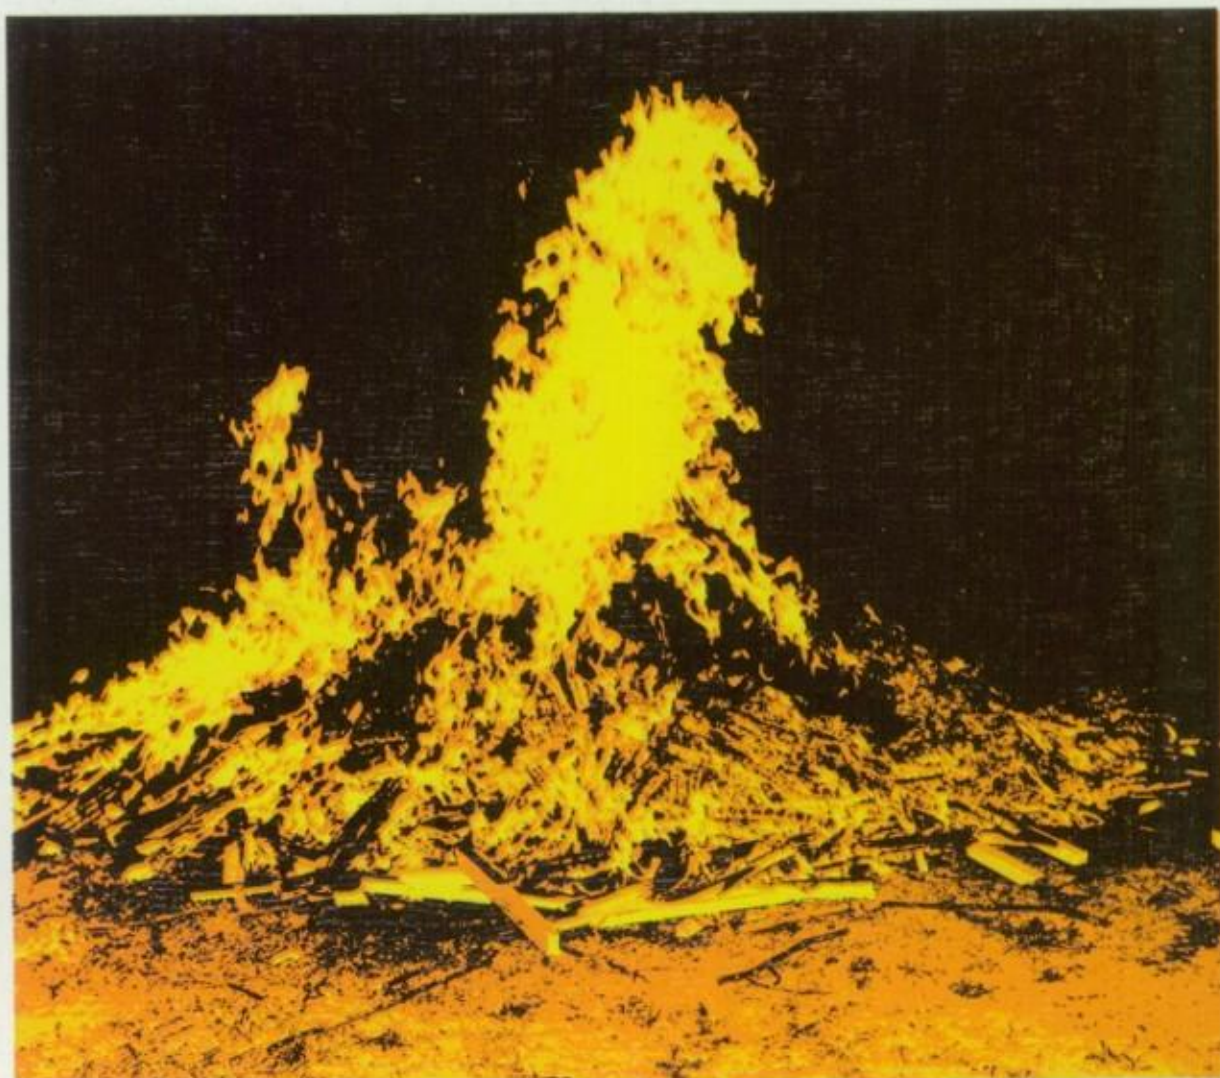

The rule of the freshman not getting much attention was broken this year by the frosh class having the pleasure to present Gloria Kern as their attendant in "72." As Gloria is also the vice-president of her class, she will represent them in more ways than one.

above right - Miss Bonnie Eisel, the 1972 Homecoming Queen, poses with the co-captains, Tom Tolford and Bob Camp. Standing to the left is Bruce Taylor, the Jr. class President.

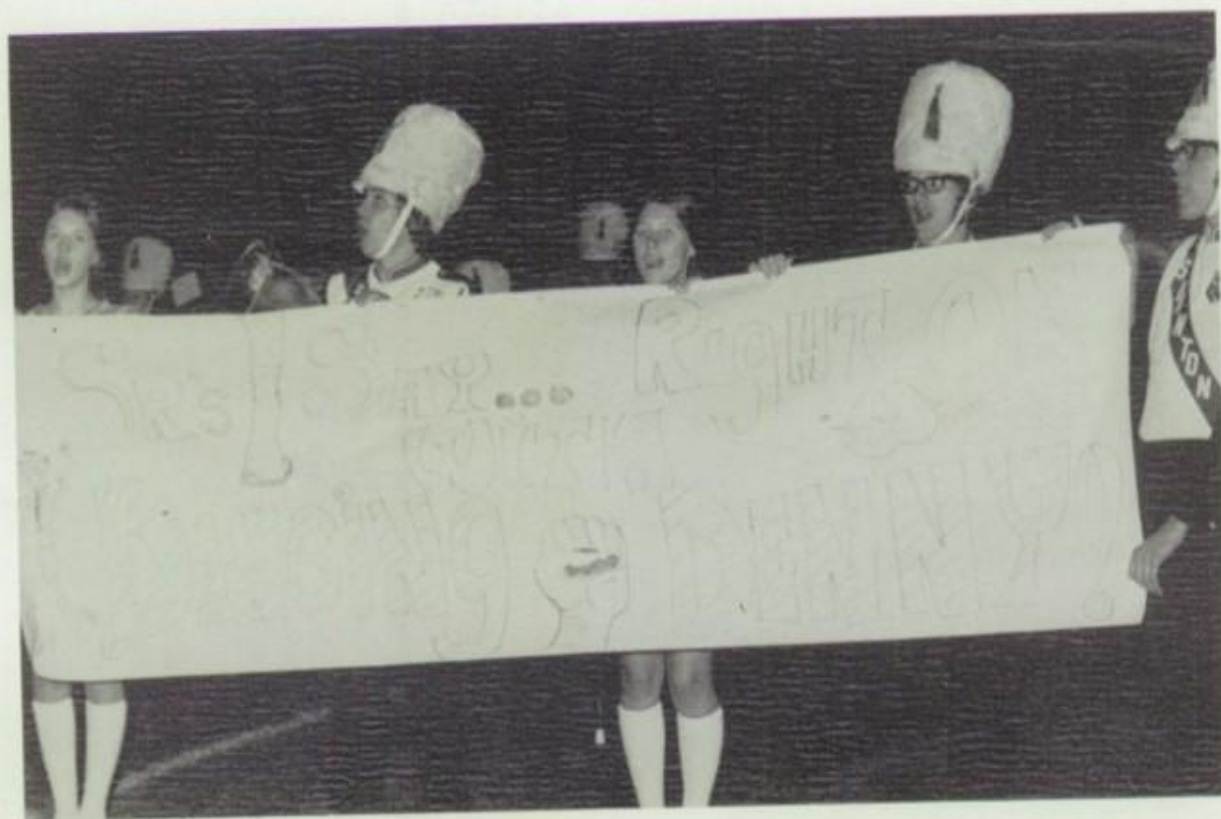

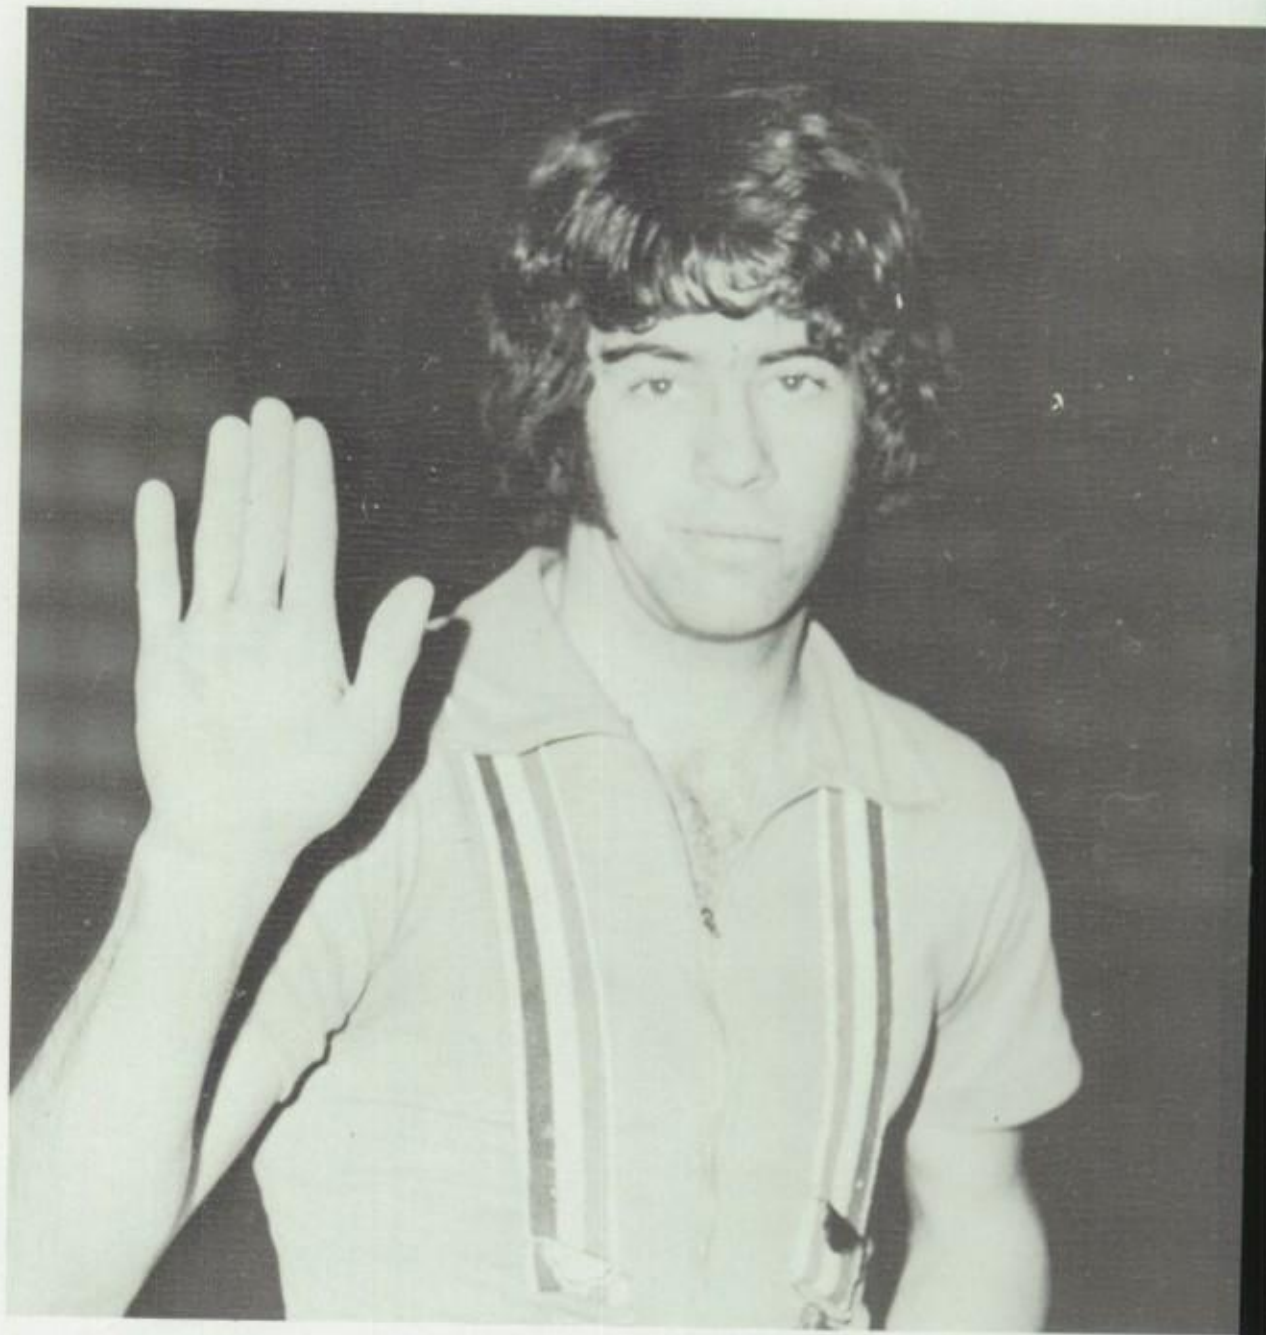

The floats were made, the queen crowned, the bonfire lit, and Swanton's 1972 Homecoming Game had begun. This year each class had gotten together and made floats for the queen and her court. With new ideas and last minute changes, the floats proudly carried their passengers around the field. Among the cries for victory and the cries of defeat, the players walked dejectedly off the field with the losing score, Swanton 14, Liberty Center 18. Unfortunately, the photographer never arrived at the Homecoming Dance, so you will have to remember the crowning of Queen Bonnie and her court, as they danced with their escorts to open the festivities.

Special Assemblies

Throughout the school year, many programs were given to break the monotony of the school day. One of the more exciting ones consisted of two men from "Athletes in Action." Keeping the crowd in stitches, they demonstrated different stunts on the trampoline, and also allowed students to participate in a game of spaceball. (pictured on opposite page) A sculptress, sponsored by the Art Club, donated her time to demonstrate her obvious talent. (pictured on this page)

Along with the programs, contests were also held. A doughnut-eating contest was sponsored by the Senior Chorus. Dana Lilly was the winner by eating 21 doughnuts in 10 minutes. A pie-eating contest was also held, but this ended in sheer disaster as the contestants ended in wearing their pie instead of eating it. Many field trips were taken also, the art classes to the Art Museum, and the psychology and sociology classes to the State Hospital to name a few. But the biggest event of all was the Mini-Courses. Lasting for three days, they consisted of subjects ranging from candle-making and French cooking to horseback riding and karate (one of the biggest). Many subjects were taught by the students themselves. Many new things were learned by all and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

"Oliver!"

Cast of main characters

 Dodger - Dave Goldsmith (this page, top right)
 Fagin - Garry Lumm (opposite page, bottom right)
 Bill Sykes - Dave Williams (opposite page, top)

The expression "Determination" was emphasized greatly in the production of "Oliver." At times the cast found it hard to give 100% to their roles, but 100% they did give and the end product was simply fantastic. The personal qualities of people like Mrs. Betty Anderson, Mrs. Jeneatte Campesino, and Miss Elaine Mollendopf would be impossible to match in their fields. Patience, understanding, and devotion could sum up their infinite amount of work. Many words expressed the feelings of the people involved in "Oliver," anxiety, pride, exhaustion, joy, but two words were the basis of their fine performance, determination and most of all, LOVE.

This year's inaugural dramatic performance was about a man and his problems with an extra large family, a family of twelve roaring, screaming children ranging anywhere from a toddler to a high school senior. Many problems arise from such a large brood, but the laughter and fun come in barrels. The cast was headed by a strong performance from Wes Born, the father, and the oldest and most "problematic" daughter was played by Peggy Vascik. The rest of the cast included many fine actors from S. H. S.

Graduation

Tomorrow I leave you school.
You, that has shaped me and guided me. It was you who I have looked toward for security. It was you who has taught me to be me. And when I finally walk out your door, a wave of emotions compel me to turn around and look once more.

Vocal Concert

The vocal spring concert was held in the S. H. S. gym under the direction of Mr. Eby and Mrs. Campesino. The eighth grade chorus opened the show with "Put Your Hand" and "Both Sides Now." A trio, consisting of Anne Gore, Richard Pahl, and Marge Carpenter, performed "Summer Breeze" and "Longer Boats." The Girls' Glee sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "Abraham, Martin, and John," among others. A trumpet trio performed "Bugler's Holiday" along with piano accompaniment. The Senior Chorus sang two lively numbers, "I Found Love" and "You Could Be Born Again." The men of the chorus sang "De Animals A-Comin'" and the ladies sang "Halls of Ivy." Because it was Mother's Day, Marge Carpenter dedicated her solo to all mothers. The highlight of the bands' appearance was the performance of the Triple Brass Choir. The choreographed number of the show was a selection from the musical Fiddler on the Roof. "Matchmaker" was performed by Jan Hilton, Renee Rowley, and Kathy Schmidt.

1973 Prom "Precious and Few"

this page - top left - Diane Pilliod. top right - Dave Goldsmith and Cyndi Gerdeman. bottom left - court. seated - Sally Rothfuss, Lisa Adams and Anne Gore. standing - Phil Cooley, Lloyd Carroll, Marge Carpenter, Joe Bland, and Mike Pawlinski. bottom right - Mary Sharples and Roger Minnich. opposite page - top left - Marilyn Loch and George Vascik. top right - Mike George, Bonnie Eisel, Bill Baker, and Connie Dietsch. bottom - King Lloyd Carroll and Queen Marge Carpenter.

Many minds were in turmoil as to whether the orchestra would ever show up for this year's Prom. They were late, but when they did get started they did a good job and everyone was finally happy, especially Brad Adams, the M. C. The height of the evening was the crowning of Marge Carpenter as queen and Lloyd Carroll as king. The rest of the court included attendants Lisa Adams, Anne Gore, and Sally Rothfuss, along with escorts Mike Pawlinski, Joe Bland, and Phil Cooley. Then the Queen and King and court danced to the theme song, "Precious and Few." After the dance, the scene moved to Imperial Lanes for the after-Prom party.

Senior Class Trip

Washington, D.C., a place where many new and interesting things are learned, through the haze of sleepy eyes, on the soles of aching feet, and with the knowledge that a wary advisor lurks ever-present outside your door. These events and many more are the basis of the Senior Class trip. When students leave Swanton, there are feelings of anxiety, fear, restlessness, and a bit of freedom. On the return trip there are feelings of exhaustion, joy, satisfaction, bankruptcy, and a touch more of education. Above are the people who in the mornings were not a bunch of howling, screaming wolves, but closer to being a string of sleepless zombies.

Penta County

Penta County is a vocational High School which students attend to receive special training in their selected fields.

Many different vocational field fields are available to the students who attend Penta County, and all of them have qualified teachers, who prepare the students for jobs in their specific fields.

Sixteen different schools attend Penta County and Swanton has one of the largest enrollments.

Band Concert

The concert band, along with its many divisions, gave a concert of its own, under the direction of Mr. Dennis Eby. Main pieces played by the band were "Thin Red Line," "Chorale," and "Spring." Solo selections were also played.

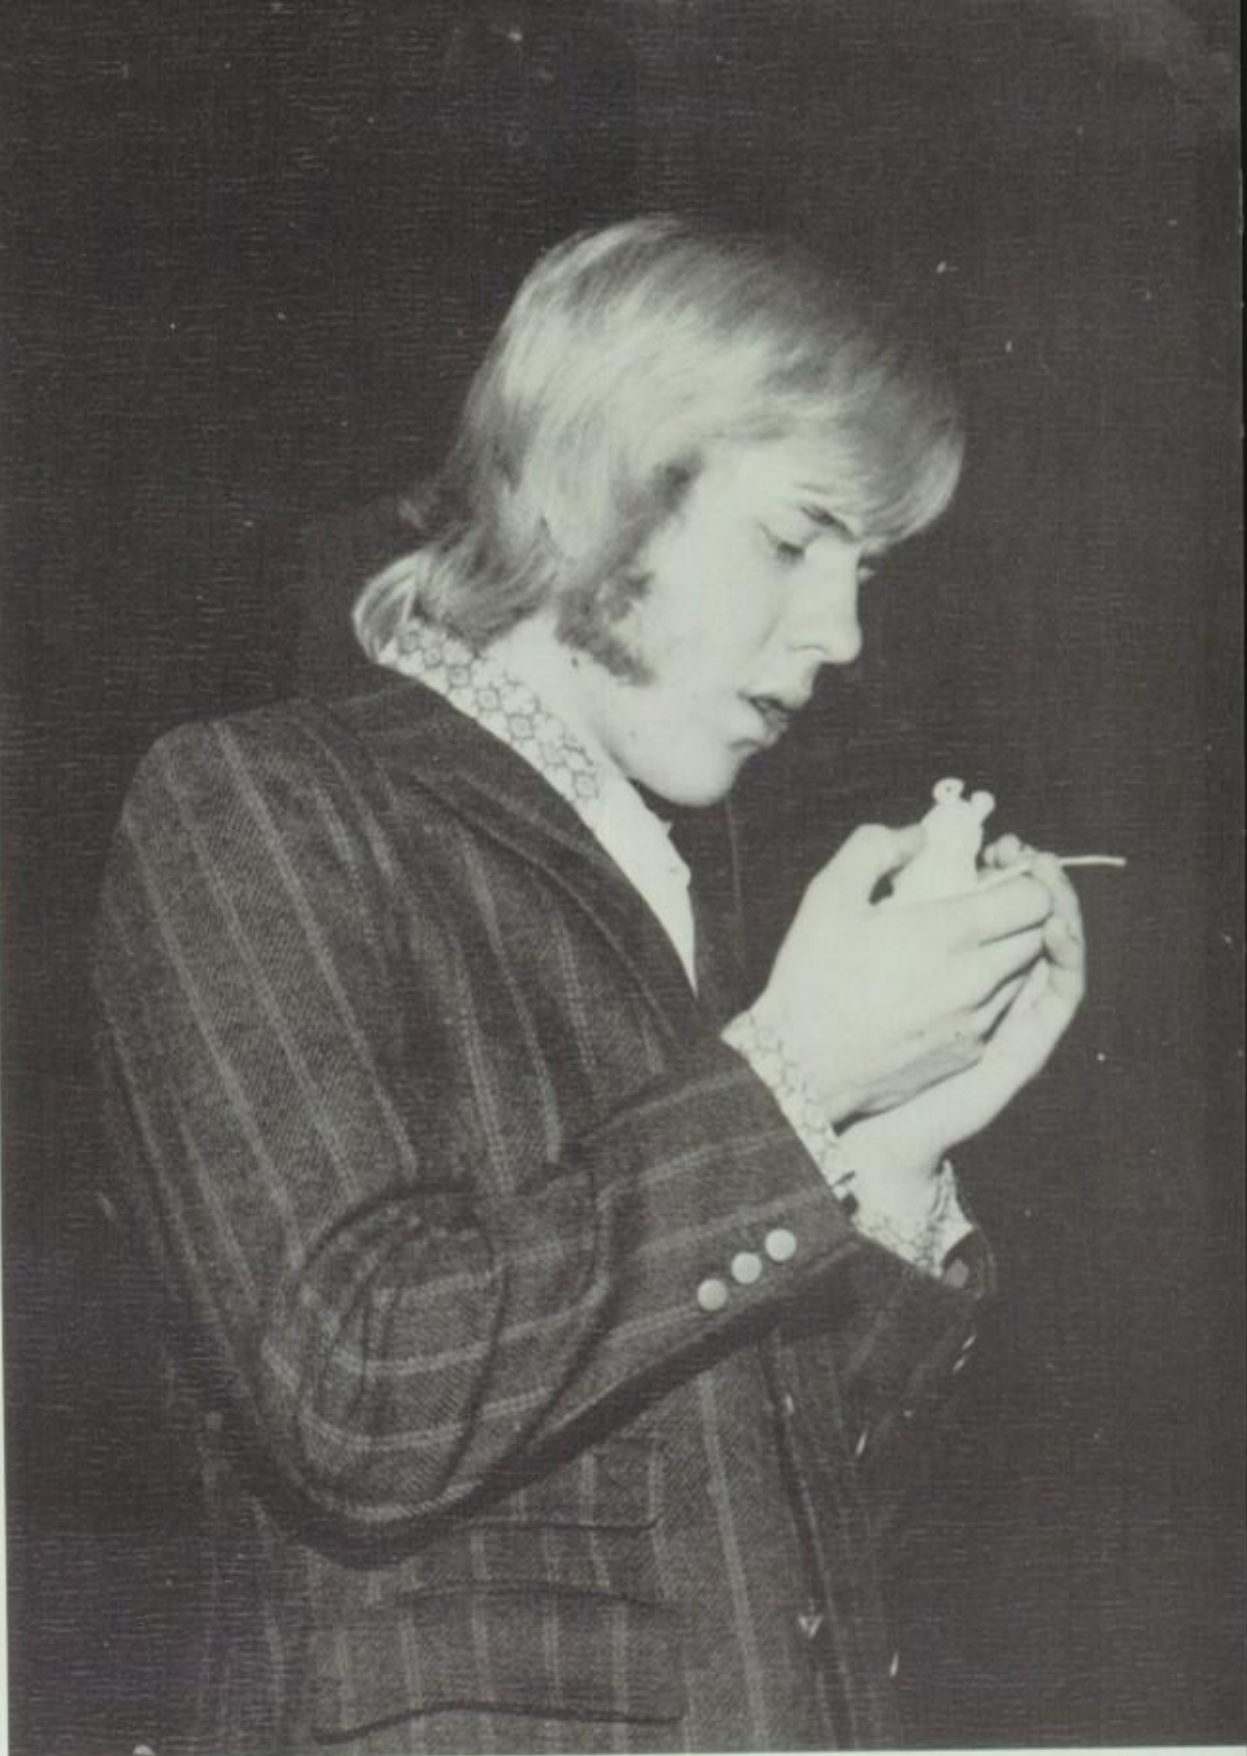

Dance Band was also on hand to play for the audience. This group has played at various proms and other local functions. Their biggest hit was "Get it on in the Morning" by Chase. Quite a bit of revision on Mr. Eby's part has produced a fine band.

“Flowers for Algernon”

“Flowers for Algernon” was not a play presented solely for entertainment. It was used to point out the cruelties that exist around us. The play had as its theme, “the problems and heartaches of a retarded man who becomes the object of an experiment to eliminate mental retardation.” After an operation, the main character, Charlie Gordan played by Earl Biggers, Charlie grows smarter and smarter until he reaches the genius level. Then, from his zenith, Charlie regresses slowly to what he had been. “Flowers for Algernon” was a fitting play to end the greatest year ever in the history of the Swanton High School Theatre.

The Madrigal Singers are new arrivals to S. H. S. 's music department. This group adds not only a different sound, but a different look also.

They sing songs from the Elizabethan era and their costumes are designed to look like those worn during that period. These outfits were made by the students and parents.

The Madrigals have performed at the Franklin Park Mall, high school concerts, private homes, and at local club functions. Next year S. H. S. will have experienced the loss of one of the school's most steadfast patrons, Mr. Daniels.

Mr. Daniels taught Chemistry for thirty-five years at Swanton along with other assorted subjects, and had a total of forty-two years of teaching experience. A lover of nature, he spent a good deal of time finding ways to save the environment. The sight of the squat gent with the gravelly voice will be greatly missed in the halls of the school, especially by his many Earth Science and Chemistry students.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

Social Studies

The social studies department has two new faces this year along with one returned. These three zealous men are trying to arrange for mini-courses in social studies to be taught next year. They've tried to get students involved in what is going on in the world through its history, geography, government, and social problems. These teachers are Mr. Holden, who teaches American History and World History (top left), Mr. Gagel, who teaches government and world history (top right), and Mr. Woods, who teaches World Geography and Sociology (right).

Art

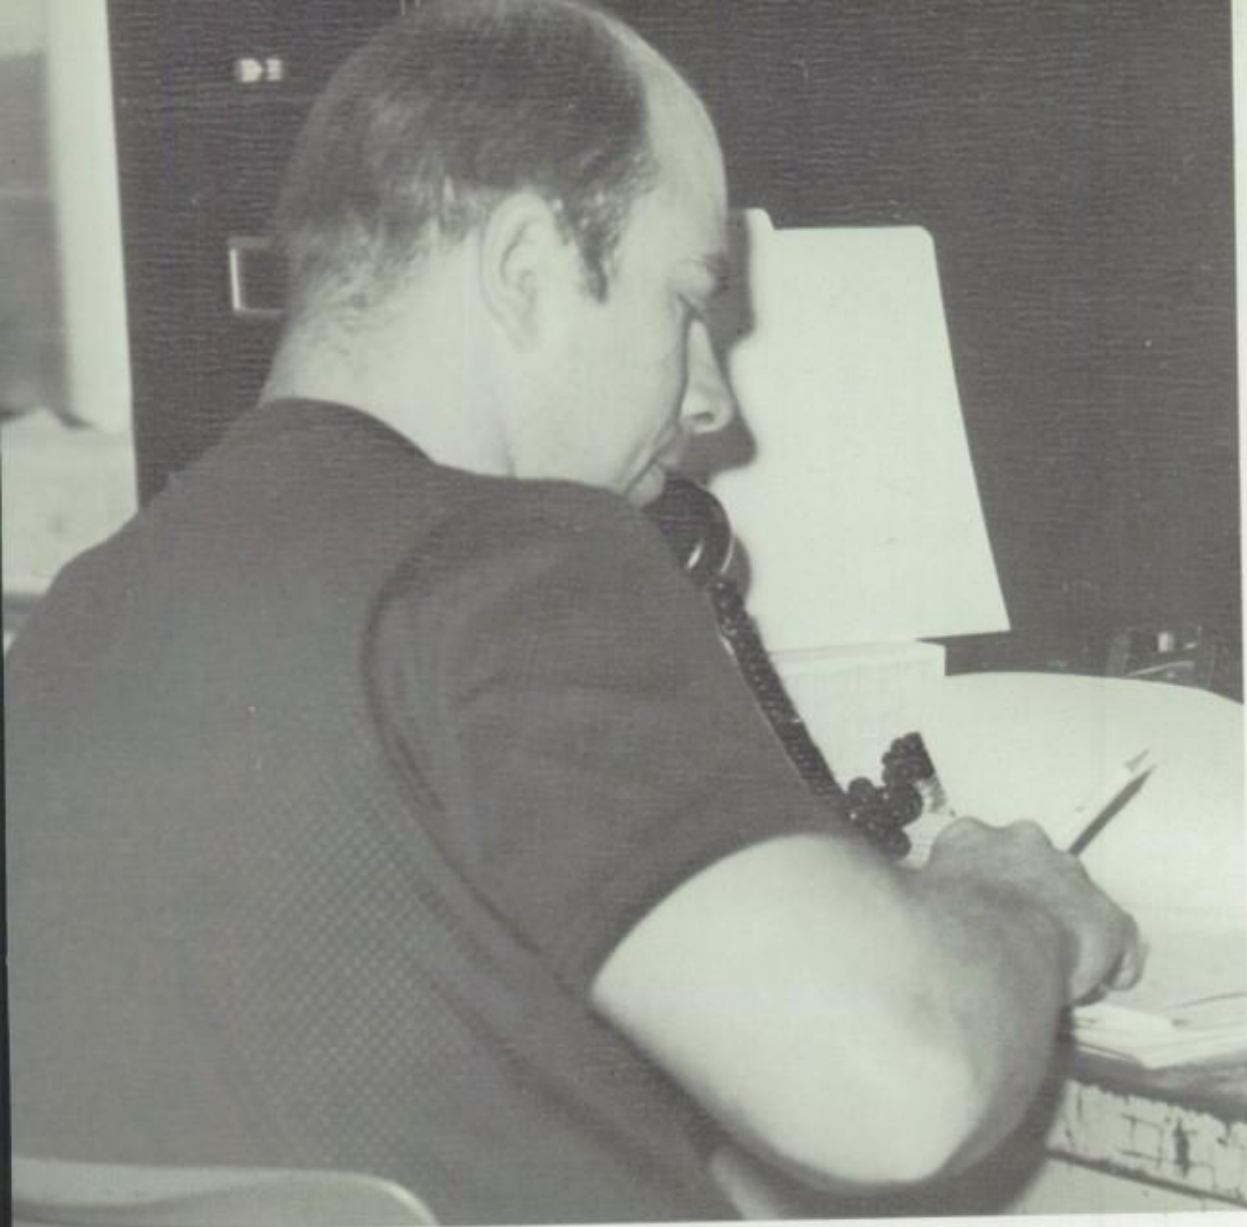

A new dimension has been added to SHS's art department this year, namely size. It has been changed from a close-knit suburban community to a thriving metropolitan city. The ever-creative Mrs. Thornton, the ravishing, red-head, Rembrandt of the art department, instituted some great new ideas to influence Swanton's upcoming young artists. The children's library was converted into a jewelry lab and working room. An old storage room was made into a research and general conversation area. Another room which was used for a general working room is now the new clay-working area. There has been a new trend installed in art students this year which is one of more specialization, which includes such areas as batik, wood carving, and metal-working. One of the better looking changes that has been made is the addition of Miss Minnig who teaches Art I and Jr. High art. Mrs. Thornton, always one for improvement, keeps interested students informed about various scholarships and exhibitions that may be available to them. With the changes and additions that have been made, students have produced many different and very interesting displays and hobbies which can be viewed in their art gallery. So if you haven't already, be sure and make it down to the art room; it's a change for the better. Miss Minnig is shown at the top and Mrs. Thornton is at left.

Music

The music department brought two new, talented instructors to SHS. Musical talents of the students were brought out in half-time performances, concerts, and this year a musical, "Oliver." Music became an academic course this year and band was lengthened to three modules for three days. Instructors are: bottom - Mrs. Campesino, the music teacher. right - Mr. Eby, the band instructor.

Physical Education

The physical education department offered something new this year with the purchasing of the universal gym. This new addition brings an exciting change for the students as well as helping them to be more physically fit. top - Mr. Hansbarger, the boys' instructor. left - Mrs. Bierbaum, the girls' instructor.

English

The English department this year brought an interesting new change for the students. Instead of the regular English II, III, and IV, twenty-six mini-courses were introduced. These were scheduled on a nine-week basis and were intended to offer students a chance to choose English courses of their own particular interest. They have helped to make English a little more exciting for both teachers and students. The English teachers are: this page - top left - Mr. Green. top right - Mrs. Anderson. bottom - Mrs. Jastrem. opposite page - left - Miss Mollenkopf. right - Mrs. Sagert.

During the 1972-73 school year, life continued in the library as it has for years. The circulation increased and Library Club worked checking out, shelving books, and cleaning and reading shelves. Students researched projects, obtained information for speeches, read, browsed, and talked too much. The librarian, Mrs. Ellen Dennis and Mrs. Midge Walter, kept busy processing newly acquired books, rearranging the card catalog, collaring students with overdue books, and giving dirty looks to the noisy students.

Two new items appeared in the library. A new central air-conditioning unit was purchased by the library board to replace the two smaller units.

The librarians accepted donations to their new paperback library. The circulation of paperbacks is high, and the titles range from Pointing Nowhere to Vodka on Ice.

Library and Home Economics

Many good smells and new clothes emerge from the room at the end of the hall, the Home Ec. room. Taught by the patient Mrs. Jeska (right), the girls, plus one male, learn to prepare delicious breakfasts, lunches and dinners. A tailoring class is also offered, where the students learn to make blazers and other clothing.

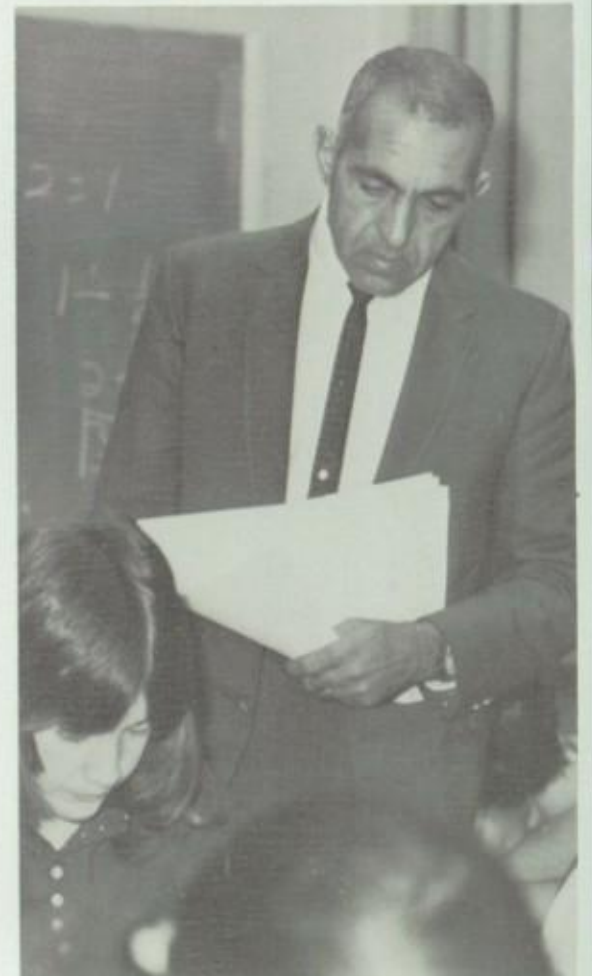

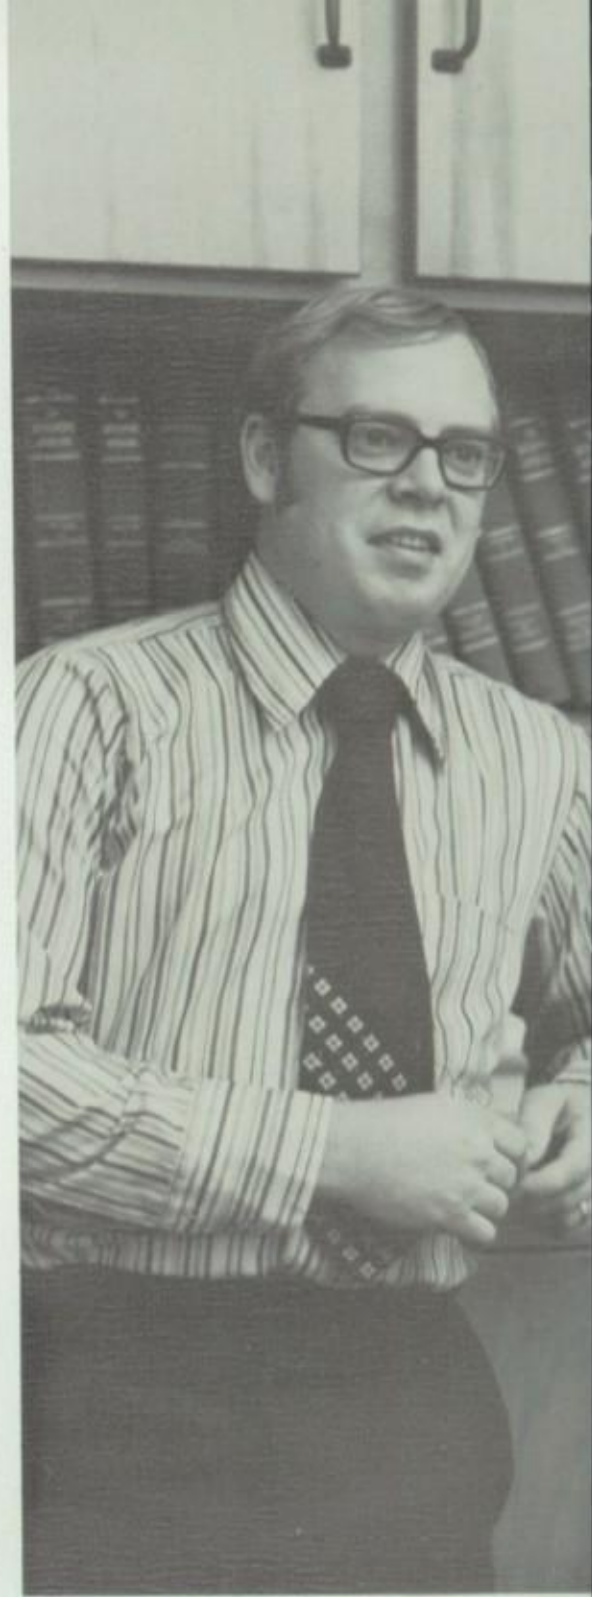

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts classes were busy at many projects this year. Mr. Ridgeway, shown at left, held classes who made dog houses for a small profit, and also made cement car stops for use at the parking lot at Park School. Mr. Kahle's, shown above, classes were kept busy by individual projects which the students themselves chose to do. They also took a field trip to the Defiance Foundry.

Mathematics

The math department has added pre-calculus to its list, especially for college-bound students, and now offers seven courses in mathematics. General math has been changed to practical math this year. Teachers are: right - Mr. Orben, who teaches Plane Geometry and Algebra I. below - Mr. Brandt, who teaches pre-algebra and practical math. bottom right - Mr. Dastigir, who teaches Unified Geometry, trigonometry, algebra II, and pre-calculus.

Science

The science department remains as it has, offering students courses in biological, chemical, physical, and geological sciences. Through their lectures and labs, students receive a good, basic background of these studies. top left - Mr. Blatnik, who teaches Biology and Earth Science. top right - Mr. Klopfenstein, who teaches fundamentals of science. left - Mr. Daniels, who teaches Chemistry and Earth Science.

Language

The language department hasn't changed except for two new teachers to replace former ones. Both have proven to be devoted to their work and try to teach the students both the language and the people, and culture of the language. right - Mrs. Dockett, who teaches French. below - Miss Burianek, who teaches Latin.

Special Education and Health

O. W. E. (Occupational-Work-Experience) is taught by Mr. McQuillen (left) in his room in the dark catacombs of the basement. Here, his students attend school half of the day. The latter half, they can be seen hard at work in various stores in town. Along with Mr. McQuillen, Mrs. Lewis teaches the E. M. R. program (below). Health is taught by Mrs. Bierbaum (girls) and Mr. Eckel (boys), who is pictured below. A required subject for all freshmen, health consists of ways to better one's health and physical fitness. Two areas which are intensely studied are drugs and alcohol. If "B" doesn't stop using herself as an example for an alcoholic, everyone is going to start believing her!

The business department offers many courses with notehand and advanced typing being added this year. Also, general business has been changed to business practice. Teachers are: left - Mr. Boltz, who teaches accounting and business practice. right - Mrs. Sloan, who teaches personal typing, vocational typing, advanced typing, notehand, business law, and consumer economics.

Business

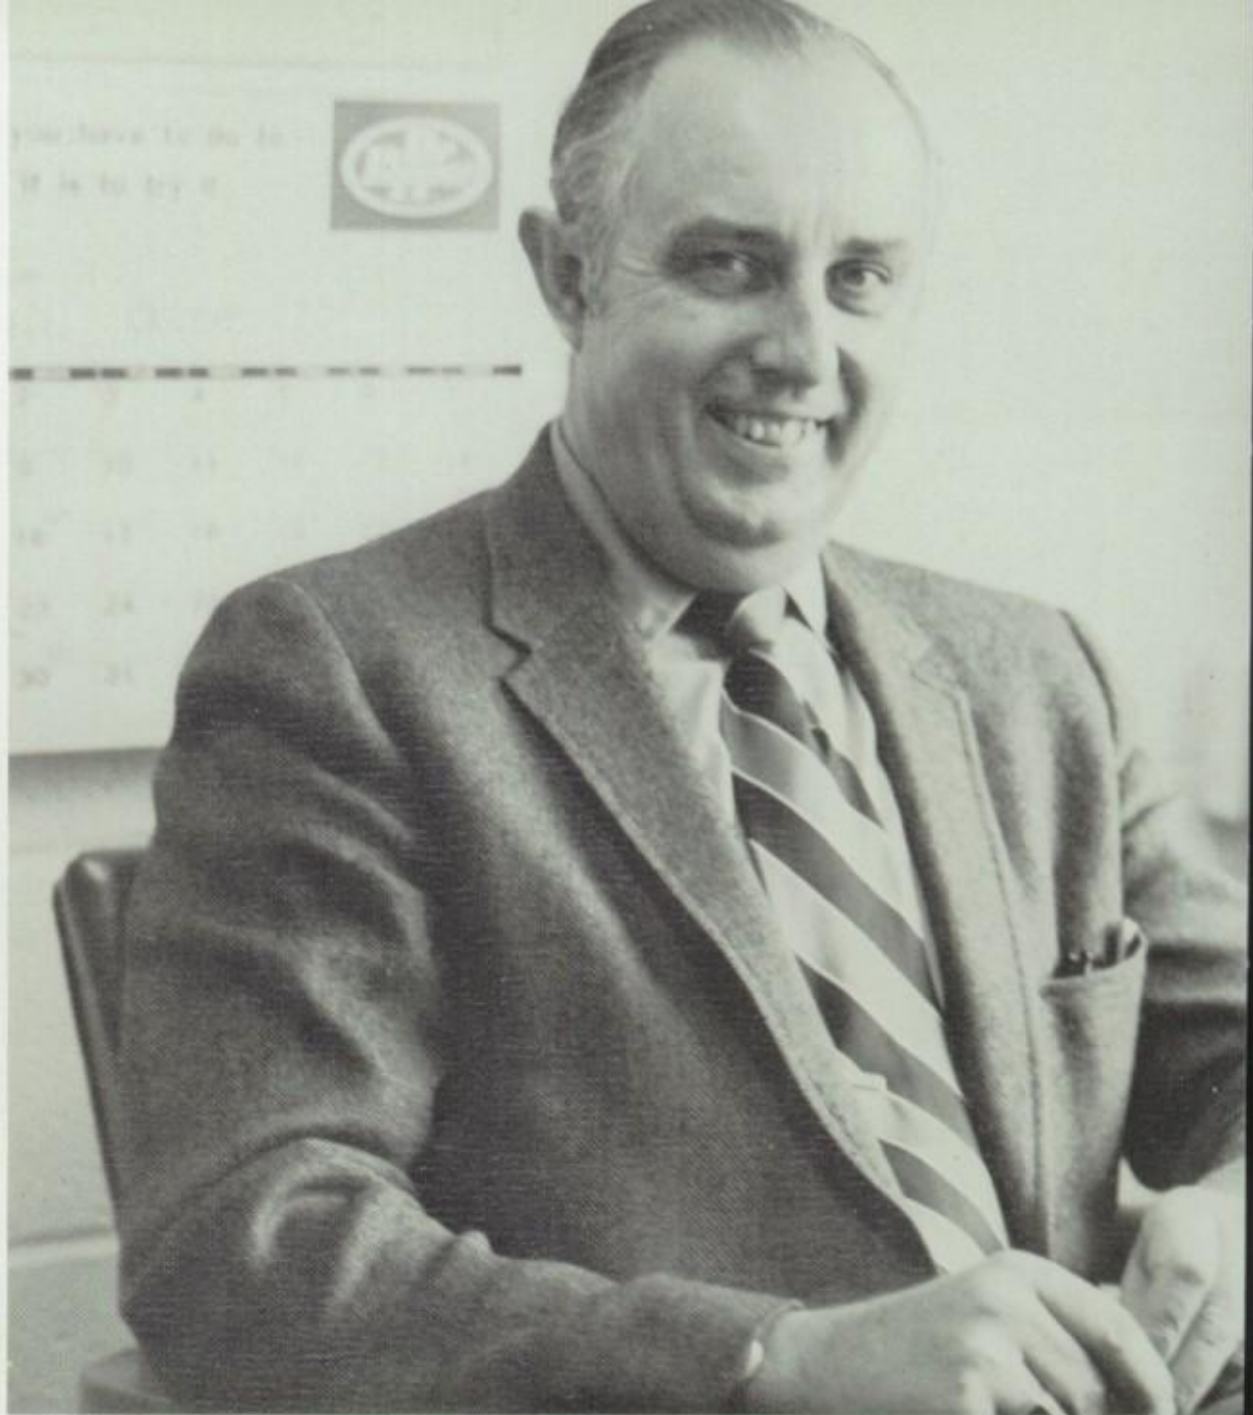

Essential People

In the words of the immortal "somebody," The School Must Open, and open it does in weather that a mailman would shun. But without the fine job and hard work of the janitors, the school would not open. The clerks and secretaries in the offices must also be congratulated in their efforts, for without them the offices probably would look like a ticker tape parade.

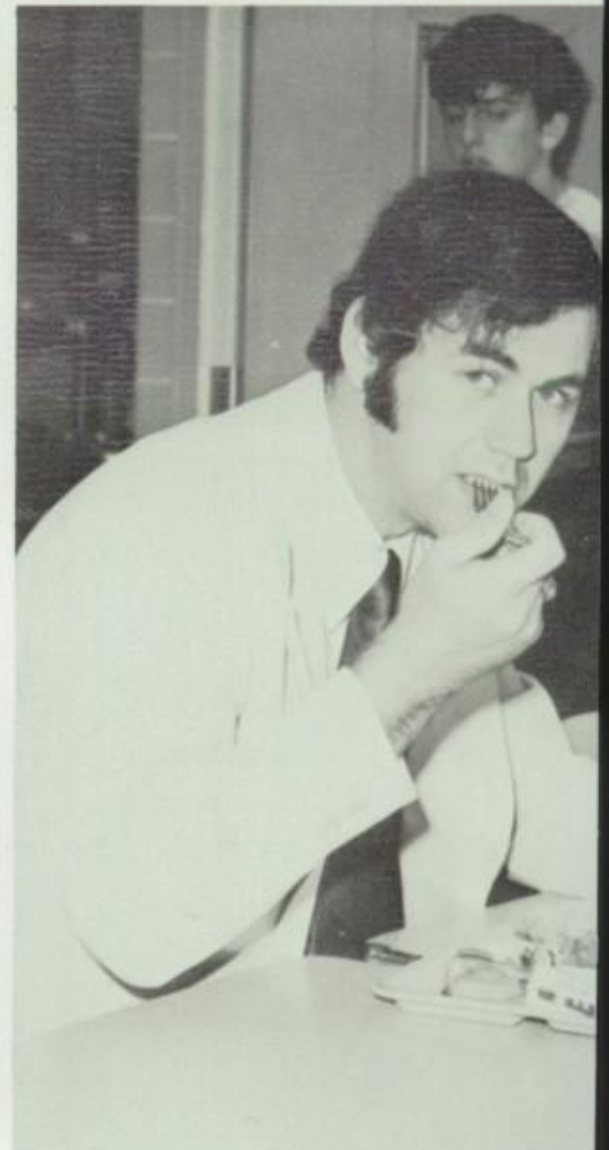

Mr. Bonam (top)

The type of job Mr. Bonam has, being principal, and the enthusiasm that is one of his traits only depict the devotion he has toward the Swanton School system. Bravo, Mr. Bonam, and we hope to have your services for a good many years.

Mr. Baumgartner (right)

The new face in the office this year has been that of Ken Baumgartner, the new vice-principal. In other words, he is the new man to carry on S. H. S. 's dirty work. Mr. Baumgartner is a quiet but forceful man who really gets the job done. Welcome, Mr. Baumgartner!

Administration

Miss Eppenstein (top)
Miss Eppenstein is probably the busiest person in Swanton. Aside from merely counseling the students, she is also busy helping students make decisions about college, careers, and general well-being of the students. A great amount of thanks goes to Miss Eppenstein.

Mr. Syx (left)
Mr. Syx who is the superintendent of the Swanton schools does much hard work to keep them running smoothly. Since there are four schools in the Swanton area, Mr. Syx has his hands full. Your efforts are certainly well appreciated by the students of S. H. S.

Finding the colors of a shadow
Or writing a song about love,
Seeing today with its
tomorrows,
Coming together as one.

For all the days we've gone through,
For all the joys we've shared
Will be forever recorded in pictures,
Telling our lives as stories written
By the whine of a moment.
Through all the tears and happiness of sports,
Through all the plays and clubs,
Through everything this year has been for us,
This book is for.
This, my final play of words, and with love,
I close this book.
